- (vii) Investment decisions made by the Portfolio Manager may not be profitable.
- (viii) The tax implications described in the Document are available under the present taxation laws to conditions. The information given is for general purpose only and based on the advice received by the Portfolio Manager on the prevalent laws and practices in India. - (ix) Prospective investors should review/ study this Disclosure Document carefully in its entirety and shall not construe its contents here of or regard the summaries contained herein as advice related to legal, taxation, financial/ investment matters and are advised to consult their own professional advisors on the various aspects of their investments/ holdings/ disposal along with its tax implications before making an investment decision.
- (x) The investment in Indian capital market involves above average risk for investors compared with other investment opportunities. Investments will be of a longer duration compared to trading in securities. There is a possibility of investment and the income from there of falling as well as rising depending on the market situation. There is also a risk of total loss of the value of an asset, possibilities of recovery of loss in investments only through legal process.

- (xiv) Currency risk in relation to the Indian Rupee may remain a significant risk factor for our investment program, the cost of hedging this currency risk (if available) could reduce the Client's investment returns. Decrease in the value of the Indian Rupee relative to other currencies (particularly the US dollar) could adversely affect investment returns and such a decrease may be likely given India's current inflation and its budget deficits.
- (xv) The Indian securities markets are smaller and more volatile when compared to the securities markets of the UK, US and certain other OECD countries. The Indian stock exchanges have been subject to broker defaults, failed trades and settlement delays in the past and such events may have an adverse impact on the NAV of the Client's portfolio. Indian stock exchanges utilize circuit breaker systems under which trading in a particular stock, or the entire trading could be potentially suspended on account of excessive volatility in a stock or market. Such disruptions could significantly impact our ability to sell Client's investments. Factors like these could adversely affect the Client's portfolio.
- (xvi) Asset class risk -
Equities are the last contingent claims on a company's assets and financials after all other obligations have been discharged.
 - Investing in equities as an asset class entails the following risks:
 - Macro-economic growth
 - Geo-political disruptions
 - Currency and interest rate
 - Liquidity risk for mid-caps and small caps
 - Event risk
 - Adverse taxation

We also invest temporary funds pending investment in liquid, debt and money market funds and there could be an extremely small probability of loss of capital inherent to default and interest rate risk inherent in fixed income investing.

- (xvii) Risk management tools and parameters
We constantly remind ourselves of our policy and ensure that our process, conduct, and portfolio confirm it. We have incorporated practices and procedures to eliminate risk wherever possible failing which we try to mitigate and minimize the impact of the same. A number of risks come into play by virtue of a firm's operation in a given field/ industry. For PRP Wealth, this includes risks resulting from breakdown in procedures, people and systems related to making and managing a portfolio of investments. These risks can be related to multiple areas / parties as indicated below:

- Portfolio level risks
 - Company risk
 - Portfolio risk management

- Firm level risks
 - Regulatory risk
 - Trade execution
 - Compliance
 - Systems
 - Investor redemption
 - External service providers
 - Team stability

Our view has been to focus on our core competency, which is to find value investment opportunities in India & Foreign. We have therefore outsourced some of our operations to the highest qualified service providers in their respective fields. We therefore conduct internal as well as external monitoring of the underlying risks in our business model. A successful risk management framework relies on clearly identifying and constantly monitoring risks.

We do not intend to take any leverage or borrowing in its ordinary course. Any borrowing or leverage shall be within the limits prescribed by SEBI, and we shall disclose information regarding the overall level of the leverage employed, level of leverage arising from borrowing of cash, level of leverage arising from position held in derivative securities and the main source of such leverage to the Clients and SEBI as required under SEBI regulations from time to time. We seek to invest primarily in instruments which, in our view, have reasonable liquidity, but we may also invest in less liquid instruments. There can be no guarantee or assurance that we will achieve our investment objectives. The objectives set out are the targeted and proposed objectives and they shall be subject to the risks inherent in undertaking such investment opportunities. The investment policies and strategies are based on the future performance of the underlying business which is inherently uncertain and entails significant risk. The foregoing description is general, is not intended to be exhaustive. Investors must recognize that there are inherent limitations on all descriptions of investments due to the complexity, confidentiality, and subjectivity of such processes. In addition, the description of virtually every strategy must be qualified by the fact that investment approaches are continually changing, as are the market conditions of India. Finally, it shall be in the sole discretion of the Portfolio Manager to pursue additional strategies to meet the manager's objective, in accordance with applicable law. In addition, new types of investment techniques with new or existing instruments are developed from time to time and the manager expects, and reserves the right, to employ these techniques where the Fund Manager determines that this may help to achieve its investment objective.
